DEMOCRATIC NOMINATIONS.

For Recorder, Allen County,
PLATT J. WISE.
County Commissioner, 3rd District,
JOHN SHAFFER.
District Attorney, Common Pleas,
JOSEPH S. FRANCE.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1859.

Convention to Amend the Constitution

At the approaching election a vote is to be taken on the question of calling a Convention to alter, amend, or revise the Constitution of this State. In some quarters this matter is attracting considerable attention, and it is rather significant that almost the entire Republic of the State favors the Convention, while the Democratic press is equally unanimous against it. There are many different amendments proposed—so many, indeed, that the Convention if called would probably do as the last did, and make an entire new Constitution. This would consume much time, and would cost the State from $100,000 to $150,000. Now, what security have the people that the new Constitution would be better than the old one, or that it would be worth its cost. It is as likely to be worse as better, and we had rather endure the evils we know of than fly to others we know not. Among the most prominent amendments spoken of are—one that would sanction a prohibitory law, with its search seizure, and confiscation. This is the temperance hobby. Another is the removal of the restrictions against persons of color, designed to propitiate the abolitionists. Then there are nothing to have our present liberal provisions in regard to foreigners' voting, superseded by the Massachusetts scheme disfranchising them for two years after naturalization. Free school men are flattered with the promise of additional school taxes. Lobbyists and trading politicians are promised annual sessions of the Legislature; removal of the restrictions against local legislation, the State's partnership in banking schemes, and the increase of the State debt. Some favor the appointment of judiciary officers by the Legislature; others wish the State to take back the Canal and resume the heavy debt its transfer relieved us from.

These are a few of the amendments proposed. Many of them are obnoxious to a vast majority of our citizens; but by a system of log-rolling and bargain the friends of each may be induced to favor the whole, and thus make a constitution that would be far more objectionable than the present.

The free school question being the most popular, is the one chiefly urged by those who wish the convention, and is the sticking horse behind which the friends of all the other changes hope to accomplish their designs. Few of them care very much about free schools, and would be as likely to sacrifice them as not, if the convention assembled. Our present school law is on the whole defective in many particulars, but it can be amended by the Legislature, without the trouble and risk of making a new constitution. The school fund, too, is now much larger than formerly, and with good management will be sufficient to keep the schools open nine or ten months in the year, which is all that is necessary; and we doubt not, all will find their taxes so high this year that they will have no desire to ask the Legislature for power to increase them. If however any amendment in the constitution in this particular is needed, it can be more easily accomplished by the Legislature in the mode provided for in the instrument itself.

Mr. Anderson is well and favorably known to all our citizens, and his connection with this establishment must add much to its already well deserved popularity.

Wm. T. Abbott is already on hand with full stocks of goods, including the latest and newest fashions, and best qualities of goods. There are few merchants who take more pains to select such goods as must please their customers, few sell as cheap, and none more deserving patronage. His new stock is well worth examining.

Wm. C. Probasco has taken Mr. C. Anderson into partnership, and the new firm hope to accomplish their designs. Few of them care very much about free schools, and would be as likely to sacrifice them as not, if the convention assembled. Our present school law is on the whole defective in many particulars, but it can be amended by the Legislature, without the trouble and risk of making a new constitution.

Mr. S. F. France is the candidate for the office of District Prosecuting Attorney for the Counties of Allen and Adams.

On motion.

Resolved, That this Convention recommend Moses Jenkinson, Esq., for the office of Prosecuting Attorney of this Judicial District.

On motion.

Resolved, That the proceedings of this Convention be published in the democratic papers in the County, and that the State Nominating Committee be requested to copy the same.

Dr. Muller, one of the Commissioners to locate the Northern Penitentiary, being present and called upon, made an able and interesting speech in response to the resolution endorsing the course of the Commissioners, in which he explained and defended their action; and also gave his views in relation to National and State politics generally—which was loudly cheered.

The convention then adjourned.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 14.

Row in the New York Democratic State Convention—The Democratic State Convention met to-day. There were two conventions (Smith and Hard) organized in one hall. Thomas G. Alvord, Ex-Speaker of the Assembly, acting as Chairman of the Western Convention, and John Stevens of the Eastern.

A scene of great excitement preceded, and some terrible rage and fighting occurred among the shoulder-hitters. Marshal Ryders was assisted by a Hardey. The Salt Convention finally adjourned, leaving the Hards in possession of the Hall.

Fernando Wood then made a bitter speech, attacking the Salters as disorganizers in leaving the Convention.

Motions were carried in choosing regular committees. Mr. Stryker, the Hard Chairman, was knocked off the Platform. The Hards finally adjourned, when Mr. Stryker again took the chair and organized the convention.

SYRACUSE, Sept. 15.

A correspondent of the Philadelphia Press speaking of the reply to Douglas's article in Harper's Monthly, says:—The doctrine of the long article in the Constitution from the pen of Judge Black, when briefly expressed amounts to this: that inasmuch as the Constitution permits slavery in the Territories, the common law affords a sufficient protection for it, and, therefore, that its existence is safe until the people at the time of forming a State Constitution give it right to exclude. But this doctrine is contrary to the experience of every Slaveholding community for they all possess and absolutely require a variety of local standards for the protection of slave property, and the history of Kansas affords a proof of the fact of the protection of slaves in the Territories when the people declared it giving the direction of their own domestic affairs to the people of the Territories by a popular majority. I nearly had said thousand votes, or, if we should add the Fifth's vote, which in reference to slavery approaches nearer to theocratic than democratic, it is clear that the Black Republican party did not intend to give the slaves of the Territories the same protection as they have in the States, and that the people of the Territories, without any loss of their own affairs, claimed down to a legislature body in which they have no voice and had not a voice. The principle is nothing else than that in practice by the British Parliament against the Colonies—it gave no voice in the government, and that all Americans believe to be a bad policy and not Republican.

It was between these two principles—government by the people in the Territories, and government with no representation—that the British party gave the slaves of the Territories the same protection as they have in the States, which is the same as the people of the Territories, without any loss of their own affairs, claimed down to a legislature body in which they have no voice and had not a voice. The principle is nothing else than that in practice by the British Parliament against the Colonies—it gave no voice in the government, and that all Americans believe to be a bad policy and not Republican.

The people of Nebraska have done the same thing. The people of New Mexico have chosen to declare by their action their Territorial legislature, that local law for the complete protection of slave property should exist among them, which would have been adopted into the law of the State if it had been admitted into the Union.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1859.

Convention to Amend the Constitution

At the approaching election a vote is to be taken on the question of calling a Convention to alter, amend, or revise the Constitution of this State. In some quarters this matter is attracting considerable attention, and it is rather significant that almost the entire Republican press of the State favors the Convention, while the Democratic press is equally unanimous against it. There are many different amendments proposed,—as many, indeed, that the Convention if called would probably do as the last did, and make no entire new Constitution. This would consume much time, and would cost the State from $100,000 to $150,000. Now, what security have the people that the new Constitution would be better than the old one, or that it would be worth its cost. It is as likely to be worse as better, and we had rather endure the evils we know of than to others we know not. Among the most prominent amendments spoken of are—one that would sanctify a prohibitory law, with its severe seizure and confiscation. This is the temperance hobby. Another is the removal of the restrictions against persons of color, designed to prop up the abolitionists. Then the known nothing we have in our present liberal provisions in regard to foreigners' voting, suppressed by the Massachusetts scheme disenfranchising them for two years after naturalization. Free school men are flattered with the promise of additional school taxes. Lobbyists and trading politicians are promised annual sessions of the Legislature; removal of the restrictions against local legislation; the State's partnership in banking schemes, and the increase of the State debt. Some favor the appointment of judiciary officers by the Legislature; others wish the State to take back the Canal and remove the heavy debt its transfer relieved us from.

There are a few of the amendments proposed. Many of them are odious to a vast majority of our citizens; but by a system of log-rolling and bargain the friends of each may be induced to favor the whole, and thus make a constitution that would be far more objectionable than the present. The free school question being the most popular, is the one chiefly urged by those who wish the convention, and is the stalking horse behind which the friends of all the other changes hope to accomplish their designs. Few of them in reality care anything about free schools, and would be as likely to sacrifice them as not, if the convention assembled. Our present school law is in reality deficient in many particulars, but it can be remedied by the Legislature, without the trouble and risk of making a new constitution. The school fund, too, is now much larger than formerly, and with good management will be sufficient to keep the schools open nine or ten months in the year, which is all that is necessary; and we doubt not, all will find their taxes so high this year that they will have no desire to tax the Legislature for power to increase them. If, however, any amendment in the constitution in this particular be needed it can be more easily accomplished by the Legislature in the mode provided for in the instrument itself, than by calling a convention. We warn the true friends of education not to lend themselves to the schemes of demagogues and intrigues, and run the risk of destroying our present free schools by allowing them to be dragged on as an element of discord into our elections. The temperance cause was raised by precisely the same course.

We are opposed to the scheme of amending the Constitution, as one fraught with danger and mischief, and designed especially against the Democratic party and its doctrines. It is unnecessary and needless, for, will involve the State in much needless expense, and in all probability result in giving us a far worse Constitution than we have at present. Our advice to all is to vote against calling the Convention.

Allen County Democratic Convention—The convention last Saturday was well attended, and the nomination made with but little opposition. J. J. Wise for Senator, and J. Shaffer for Co. Commissioner. J. S. Francis was nominated for Common Pleas District Attorney, Adams Co. having already expressed a preference for that gentleman; and Moses Jenkins was recommended for Prosecuting Attorney in the Circuit Court. This nomination is to be made by the District Central Committee. Some other counties besides Allen have already expressed a preference for Mr. Jenkins, but we presume he will be the candidate.

The proceedings of the convention will be found in another column. It will be seen that a resolution was adopted censuring Gov. Willard for his unjustifyable course towards Fort Wayne in the State Prison matter, and instructing our delegates to the State Convention not to vote for any man who sustains Willard, or has not exonerated himself in our favor. This is a proper resolution. It is true trading politicians were given to understand that Allen County has rights and will maintain them; and that hereafter no man who tramples on those rights need expect any aid or support from us.

The Excursion to Put-in-Bay—From Toledo, on the occasion of Put-in-Bay, the connections of the monument to be erected to commemorate the Commodore Party's victory on Lake Erie, was an examination of the old adage, "A bad beginning makes a good ending." The excursion train left the depot in this city at the rather unseasonable hour of 23 A. M., in the midst of a driving rain that bid fair to continue all day, and which induced many, who designed participating to remain at home. As it was, a very few, determined not to be disengaged by the appearance of things, started out enough to jump aboard the cars, and were soon whizzing on their way—nor did they have occasion to regret their precipitation. The excursionists received small concessions to their comfort from the stations along the route, and arrived at Toledo at about 3 o'clock. The propeller N. York left the dock immediately after for the Bay, glad with passengers, and leaving most of our scholars to await the departure of the steamer Forester, upon the arrival of the Mich. Southern train at 10 o'clock. Having the forenoon to get aboard of this beautiful boat, we made out to enjoy the trip out highly, in spite of the rain, which continued to fall until we were in sight of the island, when, as it fell, it had done as much as it dared to mar the festivities of the day, it held up until we were safely on our way home again.

Arrived at the Bay, a truly beautiful scene was presented to our view. Steamers of all sizes and descriptions from the immense West Metropolis to a little steamer about the size of a canal boat; numbers of schooners sailing in or laying at the dock; all sorts of pleasure boats, sprinkled around, and the beautiful island itself covered with inviting groves, all combined to form a spectacle not to be easily forgotten.

After a speech or two, and some singing and band-playing, from a band erected in the grove, which was fastened to a few, the ceremony of laying the corner stone took place, on Gibraltar Island, to which passenger were conveyed by sail boats, tow boats, pleasure yachts, and all kinds of boats. Not the majority among them, however, had any opposition. PLATT J. Wise was unanimously nominated.

The delegates from the townships forming the 3d Commissioners' District, then withdrew to select candidates for County Commissioner for said District. John Shaffer, Adam Link, and M. Herrod were proposed.

On motion, the Convention proceeded to nominate a candidate for Recorder; and the following were proposed.

J. Shaffer received 92 votes, M. Herrod 19, A. Link 13.

J. Shaffer having received a majority of the votes cast, was, on motion, declared unanimously nominated for County Commissioner, 3d District.

Committee on resolutions then reported the following which were unanimously adopted, viz:

Resolved, That we will adhere to the time-honored principles of the Democratic party; and that we do pledge ourselves to stand by and defend the principles we have so long and successfully contended for.

Resolved, That we approve the course of the present National Administration, and that we heartily endorse the acts of James Buchanan, our Chief Magistrate, as being eminently wise, patriotic, and just to all sections of the Union.

Resolved, That we approve and endorse the course of the State Prison Commissioners, in refusing the arbitrary attack of Gov. Willard, to compel them to yield the command of their prison to the State, and to the adoption of the former's proposal, prohibiting the collection of tolls on such plank roads as are not kept in repair, and providing for their being forfeited to the public if allowed to remain out of repair for six months. It is worthy the attention of plank road companies as well as the travelling community generally.

In few things, improvement manifested than in the process of taking. Since the wonderful discovery of the immortal Daguerre, the art of taking pictures by the action of light on chemically prepared plates has been in a state of constant progress, as our artist after another has made many discoveries.

Mr. BAXTER, the artist, over Stupendous, keeps fully posted, and makes himself acquainted with every new discovery or secret in the art; consequently his pictures are always of the first quality. We do not exaggerate when we say that at this time his pictures are not excelled by any in the country, as regards beauty of finish, richness of tone, or faithful resemblance to the original. He has recently made great additions to his apparatus and laid in a large supply of frames, cases, and other materials, and will take the very finest pictures, of all sizes, and in all styles of finish, at the very lowest prices. Persons wishing really good pictures will certainly get them at BAXTER.

It is a fact, that in the present state of the art, with all styles of goods, including the latest and newest fashions, and best qualities of goods.
